Description

This Toolbox has been designed for vocational workers in the community services sector in the following types of services:

- families and children support
- social/home support
- community action/development
- residential accommodation
- health related work
- labour market programs
- acute care

The resources of the Toolbox have been designed so learners take an active and constructive role in their own learning. Every competency on the Toolbox contains a mix of learning activities, learning support mechanisms and content. The learning activities have been constructed to engage the learner in the content within the context of 'real world' tasks.

The resources of the Toolbox reside in a "Village" setting and learners will move about the Village as they construct their own learning and undertake learning activities. The content of the Toolbox has been designed to make use of the web environment by using a variety of media. Text-based content has been kept to a minimum and visual materials have been included. The resources in the Library allow learners to access a broad range of information sources beyond the learning unit content.
