Description

The Security and Risk Management Toolbox – ProTection is aimed at people currently working or wanting to work in a middle management role in organisations delivering security and risk management services.

The learning is based on real life industry scenarios at a simulated Security Company, ProTection. ProTection has a diverse client portfolio ranging from individuals and small business to large corporate clients and government bodies. ProTection's clients span the following industry areas:

- Close personal protection
- Cash in transit
- Special events
- Control room operations
- Security risk consulting
- Investigations.

Learners have access to resources to assist them in completing tasks and online communication tools such as email, discussion boards and chat to share ideas with colleagues.
